FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce JAMES P. HARBESEN, of Fleming county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democracy in convention assembled.

We are authorized to announce Col. J. SMITH HURT, of Bath County, as a candidate for Congress in the 9th Congressional District at the next November election. Subject to the action of the democratic party.

We are authorized to announce that Dr. A. G. Browning, of Fleming county, is a candidate for Congress, in this (9th) district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

MAJOR J. ALEX. GRANT, at Frankfort, is a candidate for Register of the Land Office.

THE Republicans of the Eighth district have nominated W. O. Bradley for Congress.

THE vote on the school tax in Kentucky will be very close though it is believed to have carried.

It seems that the pistols used for dueling purposes in this country are not half as destructive of human life as the toy pistol given to the children as a plaything.

THE Republican idea of internal revenue reduction is lifting taxation from the rich and permitting the burden to remain upon the poor. The Republican majority did not pass the sham internal revenue bill, but they gave the people of the country an inkling as to the kind of tax reduction they would make if compelled to.

THE investigation into the Jeannette disaster has been left to a naval court of inquiry which will not assemble until Lieutenant Melville's return. Melville with all his bravery and after all his noble and almost superhuman efforts will meet with rather a doubtful reception from a court of inquiry which will endeavor to find some fault with his actions.

IF the necessities of life were reduced in price so as to come within the means of laboring men they would not be compelled to strike for higher wages for their labor. The workingmen should turn their attention for awhile from their employers to the republican majority in Congress which refused to remove from them the burdens of taxation, which are unnecessarily heavy.

THE workingmen in the iron mills at Pittsburg who have been engaged in a strike for some time will have hard work to make up for what they have lost. Thus far, according to an estimate made recently, the strike has cost them in wages, no less than four millions of dollars, an amount that the treasures of all the iron workers unions will not be able to make good. And even though the strikers succeed in obtaining the advanced scale of wages they demand the increase for the whole year will hardly compensate them for what has already been lost in wages. The strikes that pay are of very rare occurrence.

Arthur's Man Spencer.

Philadelphia Times: Ex-Senator Spencer is one of President Arthur's railroad commissioners, and he failed to respond as a witness when wanted by the government in the Star-route prosecutions. A hint from President Arthur that a high public officer must answer a call from the government when in battle with public thieves would have made Spencer respond or resign, but Arthur seems to have forgotten to give the hint, and Spencer goes his way with impunity.

MATTER OF FACT.

At Paris, on the 17th inst., while a destitute family, consisting of the father, mother, and several children were waiting for a train to Covington, one of the children, a boy, seven years of age stepped off the platform on the track and was run over by a car. One of his legs and a part of the hand were cut off. The little fellow was so seriously injured he is not expected to recover. The good people at Paris collected $50 and presented it to the family. They gave beside $10 in silver to the little sufferer. Tears of gratitude came to his eyes and he said he had never seen so much money before in his life. The family are named May and came from the southern part of this county. They were travelling on a pass the Kentucky Central authorities had kindly given them.

THE savage foe in ambush lurked

Among the wooded Licking hills
A century ago.
And now a host of people come
And mark the fatal spot,
To show the deeds of those who fell
To-day are not forgot.

TO-MORROW the recently elected officers, Messrs. A. T. Cox, J. James Wood, H. E. Pogue, sr., and Henry L. Newell, will be ordained and installed into the duties of their respective offices as elders and deacons in the Southern Presbyterian church. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Joseph R. Ruggles Camp Meeting.

Earnest Discourse by Rev. H. C. Northcott—Arrival of Distinguished Ministers.

Notable Improvements made to the Grounds.

From our Special Correspondent.

I arrived on the ground Thursday, August 17th, at 4 p.m., and though I have been familiar with everything about the camp, I was much impressed with the increasing beauty of the place and the improved facilities for comfort and convenience in forwarding the objects which the institution is intended to advance. Briar patches are giving place to young forest trees. The ground once bare of everything but dead leaves is nicely carpeted with grass. Vacancies in the spaces allotted for tents are now being filled up with neat and comfortable cottages. Instead of the old fire boxes for burning cannel coal for illuminating the grounds, we have elegant tubular lamps that will burn during a storm of wind and rain. The water is good, one well being delightful sulphur, and there is an abundance of it both for man and beast. The hotel is in first-class order. Confections, fruits and melons are abundant and reasonably cheap. The directors have built seven new tents and bought others. All are taken but one, and that will be taken soon.

First service was held at 8 this evening. A good congregation present who listened with great earnestness to the discourse of Rev. H. C. Northcott. We have on the ground ministers J. D. Walsh, President of the meeting, J. D. Woods, Tollesboro circuit, H. W. Bailey, Fleming, C. Foster, Fox Springs, W. G. Bradford, Tollesboro, E. L. Sanders, Maysville, S. G. Pollard, Shinkle Chapel, Covington, and H. C. Northcott, Germantown.

Services now will be held each day. Experience meeting 8½ a.m. Preaching 10½ a.m., 3 p.m., and 8 p.m. Rev. Bidwell S. Lane of Covington Union, will be here either to-morrow or Saturday and will preach on Sabbath at 10½ a.m. Rev. Dr. Watson with several efficient workers of his congregation, Grace church, Newport, and Rev. C. J. Howes of Main street, Covington, will be here on Monday evening of next week. Arrangements are being made for a day for Temperance work. The day and programme will be published on Sabbath from the pulpit. Besides those mentioned Dr. Daniel Stevenson will be here next week and many other ministers. There will be a large crowd by Saturday, still larger on Sabbath. Great results are hoped for.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hall, jr., and Mr. John H. Hall and wife, left Thursday for the Blue Licks.

Mrs. Hamilton Gray, jr., left for Baltimore on Thursday.

Mrs. J. T. Strode and children have returned from a visit to Clark county.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Blaine left this week for the White Sulphur Springs and Old Point Comfort. They will return some time next week.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a recent meeting of St. Patrick's Benevolent Society, the following resolutions were presented and adopted:

WHEREAS, in the Providence of an all wise Creator, one of our members has been removed from our midst by the hand of death,

Resolved, That in the death of Timothy Hierley, we have lost an exemplary brother, and one possessing in a remarkable degree all those qualities which makes the good citizen, husband, parent, and above all an humble and devoted Christian.

Resolved, That we sincerely sympathize with his family in their sad bereavement, and pray that the hand of Him who has removed one so dear from our midst may sustain them in their greatest affliction, and at last lead them up to sit down with him, and sing the praises of the Lord for ever and ever.

Services will be held at the Presbyterian Chapel in East Maysville, to-morrow by Rev. S. B. Alderson.

Temperance Day at Ruggles' Camp Ground.

Thursday, August 24th, there will be an all day temperance meeting. It will begin 8 a.m., with a prayer and conversation meeting on that subject. The best speaking talent on the ground will be employed in public address on temperance and prohibition at 10½ a.m., and at 3 p.m., mixed with songs and prayers. It will be a good day.

In Trouble.

Daniel Bradley, colored, of Mt. Olivet, Ky., was brought before United States Commissioner, G. W. Adair, Thursday, by deputy U. S. Marshal S. W. Parker, under a warrant charging him with violating the internal revenue laws. It seems that Bradley has been acting as a retail liquor dealer without having obtained the special license required by the government. On account of the absence of one of the witnesses, the case was continued till the 22nd of this month.

Religious.

Services will be held at the M. E. church, south, to-morrow morning and evening, by the pastor, Rev. M. D. Reynolds.

Divination by Means of Sheep's Bones.

M. G. Perrot speaks, in his "Mémoires d'Archéologie d'Epigraphie, et d'Histoire," of divination by sheep's bones. This method of penetrating the secrets of the future is largely resorted to at the present time, and the Greek peasant has confidence in it as absolute as that which his ancestors regarded the examination of the entrails of a sacrificial victim. This practice is, however, no longer restricted to diviners and sorcerers only; on solemn occasions each man may act as his own augur on behalf of himself and his family. I remember once when I was returning from an excursion into Achaia, near Aigion, I was obliged to stop in the evening in the outskirts of Mourla, at a peasant's house where I asked hospitality for the night. He took me into a room where his wife and his four children were beginning their evening meal, of which he invited me to partake. I think it was a few days after Easter, and the food set before us was mutton. The children had just begun to talk freely, and conversation was becoming animated, when all of a sudden my host flung something violently on the ground, struck his forehead, and as I looked at his wife, seeking in her eyes an explanation, she burst into tears. A young girl of twenty was lying on a rug at the end of the room, in the shade; I had not observed her. She had recently fallen ill. Her father, turning his eyes toward her, picked up the object he had thrown down and handed it to me. It was the blade-bone of the sheep. "You see nothing, perhaps," he said to me: "nevertheless, it is written there that my daughter is going to die; she will not recover." I endeavored to dissuade him from this idea, but in vain; all the family were plunged into despair, and gave way to the wildest grief. As fate would have it, the young girl actually did die a few days afterward.

During the war of independence the same method was employed for foretelling the issue of the struggle, and the famous Captain Karastratis was guided by the presage in engaging in or deferring an action. Certain conditions are indispensable to the prediction of the future by the bone; the sheep must have been purchased by the person who eats it, and kept alive for three days in his house; otherwise the presage applies to the person who has sold the animal. This superstition was especially cherished by the brigands, but it is to be presumed that they found some way of eluding its restrictive conditions, for they are not in the habit of purchasing their sheep, and they have no houses to keep them in.—The Nineteenth Century.

Can't Keep One.

When he had finished with the climate, soil and productions of Idaho and had stopped to blow his nose, one of the group asked:

"How about education facilities?"

"That's the only thing we lack," replied the old man with a mournful sigh. "We've got schools enough, but we can't keep no teachers."

"What's the trouble?"

"Well, take my school, for instance—only two miles from the nearest house, eminently situated on top of a hill, and paying the highest salary. We can't keep a teacher over two weeks."

"Do they die?"

"Some do; though it's no place for dying. We had a young fellow from Ohio, and he met a grizzly and whistled for him. The grizzly cum. We had another and a widder run him down and married him inside of a month. The third one was lame, and the Injuns overtook him. Then we tried women folks. The first one got married the night she lit down there; I took the second about the middle of the third week, and the next one was abducted by a stage robber."

"Why don't you get the ugliest, homeliest woman you can find—some perfect old terror, like that lantern-jawed, razor-faced female over by the ticket-window?"

"Why don't we? Stranger, you Eastern folks will never understand us pioneers in the world—never. That's my wife—the identical school teacher I married, and she was the handsomest one in the drove!"

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.
ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20, 1880.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with 'Kendall's Spavin Cure' has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle ended him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours.
P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with 'Kendall's Spavin Cure,' one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO. Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.
